

Creating Effective Classroom Assessments)

April 9-10, 2010 BAKER UNIVERSITY CONTINUING EDUCATION TWO HOURS GRADUATE CREDIT

Do you want to create common assessments? This course will prepare you to create effective classroom assessments, which will include answer keys and rubrics aligned to YOUR curriculum.

Course Objectives:

1. evaluate curriculum as teachable/assessable and revise as necessary
2. differentiate assessment for learning and of learning; distinguish types of assessment and when to use each type
3. apply guidelines for appropriate test construction
4. explain or demonstrate creation of checklists and rubrics
5. critique assessments and provide for appropriateness, alignment, administration and scoring guidelines, and overall validity
6. create effective assessments aligned to local curriculum

Dates: April 9-10, 2010: Friday, 4:30-8:30 AND Saturday, 8:30-4:30. Please note that these two sessions will be “working meals,” so you are encouraged to bring your sack lunches or snacks for both sessions. One follow-up assignment is required.
